A documentary that showcased farm families trying to survive in one of the most challenging growing seasons in 2011 will air right here on KDLT on Sunday.

POET has sponsored the one-hour documentary called 'Against The Grain: The Year Mother Nature Struck Back,' that showed extreme weather conditions such as flooding and how farm families got through it.

POET officials said the company has a deep respect and appreciation for the spirit of the American farmer and they want people watching nationwide to experience it.

"The reality is most Americans today that live in Urban areas don't really know where their food comes from or where their energy comes from and their food and a good portion of their energy are coming right here from American farms," said Greg Breukelman.

The special runs September 9th and 23rd at 11:00 a.m. and October 7th, 14th and 21st at 12:00 p.m.
